

Barry and Bob!!!

AD!!!

Once upon a time there was a boy called Barry and another called Bob. They lived in Bulgaria. They were sent to Africa to build a castle. It had a basement for the minotaur

It eats rats and people.

They were prisoners because they were the only ones who knew around the castle. It was minuscule (small).

They had everything they wanted but they couldn't escape. Every morning Bob put out some bird seed and when he noticed a bird he swapped some for a feather. When everybody was asleep he made an invention... It was wings. They were stuck on with wax. One day they were setting off and Bob demanded don't go to near to the sun as well as don't go to near to the sea. They got on the windowsill and dived down. The seagulls were getting Barry so he flew higher and higher and higher then down and down and down... he went to close to the went to close to the sea and drowned.