Purpose (Intent)

At The Federation of North and South Cowton Community Primary School and Melsonby Methodist Primary School, we aim to teach our children the skills they need to develop not just academically but also as individuals and communicators. By learning to speak and listen as well as read and write fluently, children can effectively communicate their ideas and emotions to others. Our rich and exciting curriculum has reading as its core value as through reading pupils have a chance to develop culturally, emotionally, intellectually, socially and spiritually. Reading also enables pupils both to acquire knowledge and to build on what they already know. In the federation, we teach our children to be great thinkers and communicators to prepare them to participate fully as a members of society.

Aims (implementation)

- read easily, fluently and with good understanding
- develop the habit of reading widely and often, for both pleasure and information
- acquire a wide vocabulary, an understanding of grammar and knowledge of linguistic conventions for reading, writing and spoken language
- appreciate our rich and varied literary heritage

- write clearly, accurately and coherently, adapting their language and style in and for a range of contexts, purposes and audiences
- use discussion in order to learn; they should be able to elaborate and explain clearly their understanding and ideas
- are competent in the arts of speaking and listening, making formal presentations, demonstrating to others and participating in debate

Outcomes (Impact)

Children are engaged in their learning and eager to widen their understanding and apply their skills; they are able to see connections between the skills learnt in class and their application in their wider learning and life experiences. When discussing their own work, it is clear that they take ownership of their personal developments targets and are proud of their achievements.

English is a vital life skill which all the pupils are taught in order to access and excel in all areas of learning. Considering our core values, we aim for excellence in English achievement throughout the school.

Since the implementation of the 2014 curriculum, we acknowledge and have include the following changes:

- Poetry is now a key requirement; with all year groups expected to recite poetry
- The prevalence of grammar and punctuation in context remains high
- There is a greater focus on 'Reading for Pleasure' as a result of the document 'How to be an Outstanding Reading School'
- We shall continue to embed the importance on target setting and reward children who are meeting these targets.

Language and our School Community

At Federation, we aim to develop in the children we teach an enthusiasm for English in all its forms and the confidence to express themselves both orally and through the written word. Being able to understand and communicate effectively enables pupils to gain a wider understanding of the world around them.

By developing a comprehensive range of reading skills, we aim to foster in the children a love and appreciation of a variety of literature. These skills will enable them to access all aspects of the curriculum.

The Federation does not have any children who speak English as an additional language (EAL). Being literate in one's first language enables and supports the development of English. If children arrive at the Federation with limited English, they are encouraged and supported in order to develop their skills in all languages to which they have access. Becoming literate in more than one language is seen as having positive cognitive benefits. It enables higher order thinking skills and must be regarded as having status.

Planning

Drawing key objectives from the National Curriculum, The federation has created an English curriculum designed to engage our children and address their learning needs. High quality texts are provided for the classes to engage pupils within a rich, broad and balanced reading experience to create a variety of high quality outcomes. From the curriculum design to the in-class delivery, the core aim underpinning Federation's practice is to enable children to weave webs of knowledge which interconnect, ensuring our learners know more and, consequently, be able to do more. In Key Stage 1 and Key Stage 2, teachers plan together with their year group partners using the Federation curriculum overview. All aspects of English are covered in the lessons, including reading fluency and comprehension skills, writing, poetry, speaking and listening. Reading for pleasure is at the forefront of the agenda and it is promoted daily through Guided and Shared Reading sessions, All teachers variate their plan to cater for the needs of all learners, including those with SEND. Planning is regularly supported and monitored by subject leads and SLT.

Speaking and Listening

Throughout the school we aim:

- To provide a range of situations, audiences and activities which encourage children to develop confidence and competence in speaking and listening.
- To develop children's awareness that different situations require different forms of oral expression.
- To develop the mechanical skills required for effective oral communication, e.g. voice projection, tone, clarity, pace of speech.
- To recite and perform a range of age appropriate poetry
- To learn nursery rhymes
- To sing songs

Communication takes many forms: body language, gesture and verbal communication which all enable the child to develop individually, socially and academically. The development of thought processes is dependent on language competence. Oracy is fundamental in this process and consequently is the foundation upon which English is built.

Valuing all children's language skills and building upon their existing linguistic knowledge is essential to high achievement alongside the need for carefully planned learning opportunities designed to cover the full range of speaking and English skills.

It is expected that, by the end of Year 6, children will:

- be confident speakers and listeners.

Reading

Reading is a focus area across our school, with particular regards to Reading for Pleasure, with a view to promote a genuine love of reading in our children.

In daily sessions in KS1, our pupils are taught 'Letters and Sounds' as a tool to acquire the phonetic knowledge needed to spell and read words confidently. To develop their fluency and acquire the key comprehension skills, weekly comprehension lessons are taught throughout the school. Some activities include reading journals and reviews of poems and books by children. In addition to this, children read with the teacher during carefully structured Guided (KS1) and Shared Reading (KS2) sessions. The children have a phonics-based reading scheme that is matched to the phase they are learning. Once Phase 6 is established children move through the reading scheme based on their reading age. Children also have access to a newly restocked library on a weekly basis to further their love of reading. Class teachers share high quality texts at the end of each school day.

Through exposure to a rich variety of genres and authors, children are encouraged to expand their vocabulary size and to apply new words in their own writing. Children use their reading record or planner to log their reading sessions at home. By sharing and discussing their reading with their family, children build their confidence and understanding of the texts they explore.

It is expected that, by the end of Year 6, children will:

- read, understand and respond to complex texts of different genre;
- read aloud clearly and expressively
- be reading a wide selection of literature at home and at school for pleasure;
- read books completely before moving on, and
- give considered opinion concerning texts read, based upon evidence where applicable.

Writing

At Federation, we are proud of the standard of writing our children produce throughout the school. Children have the opportunity to explore and create a variety of outcomes and genre due to the rich variety of texts they are exposed to in lessons, chosen to appeal and engage to our pupils' interest. Throughout writing lessons, children are expected and encouraged to broaden and apply their vocabulary and the spelling and punctuation rules they have been taught. As a school, we aim to inspire and engage all pupils, including reluctant writers, through relevant and exciting lessons which are tailored to individual learning styles and needs.

It is expected that by the end of Year 6, children will:

- be able to use joined legible handwriting;
- spell words of three or more syllables;
- use capital letters, full stops and commas;
- express writing properly in sentences;
- use a wider range of punctuation like paragraphs and speech marks accurately;
- be able to spell key and polysyllabic words accurately and use in own writing;
- plan and sequence creative and descriptive writing and formal letters, and
- use adjectives, adverbs and figurative language.

Handwriting

At Federation, we take great pride in our presentation. All children expected to write neatly and legibly. Children receive clear modelling on letter formation (ascender and descender) and use daily handwriting sessions to practise their letter formation. At Federation we have created a bespoke handwriting style which is used throughout both key stages by all pupils and staff. Pupils who have mastered a neat and legible handwriting will receive their pen licence. Excellent presentation is encouraged and expected throughout the curriculum.

Grammar and Spelling

The teaching of Spelling and Grammar is in line with the requirements of The National Curriculum (2014). Grammar and spelling are embedded in every writing session. Spellings are sent home weekly with a spelling pattern and are tested the following week.

In Reception and KS1, daily phonics is the key to the children's learning of spelling. Children are taught to blend sounds to read and segment to spell. At the same time they learn words which are not phonically regular (common exception words) All primary pupils should aim to attain and develop the following skills:

- Express themselves with confidence and clarity;
- Develop a range of purposes to talk, including evaluation and exploration of ideas;
- Identify the key points of an account or discussion and evaluate what they hear;

- Read and write with confidence, fluency and understanding;
- Be able to draw upon a whole range of reading cues (contextual, graphic, phonic and syntactic) to monitor their reading and correct their own errors;
- Understand the sound and spelling system and use this to read and spell accurately;
- Have an interest in words and their meanings when developing a growing vocabulary;
- Know, understand and be able to write in a variety of fictional and poetic genres;
- Develop familiarity with some ways in which narrative is structured through basic English ideas of character, setting and plot;
- Understand, use and be able to read and write a range of non-fiction texts;
- Plan, draft, revise and edit their own writing;
- Have suitable technical vocabulary through which to understand and discuss their reading and writing;
- Be interested in a wide range of texts to read with enjoyment and evaluate and justify preferences, and
- Through reading and writing, develop powers of imagination, inventiveness and critical awareness.

English and Special Educational Needs

English skills are taught effectively to all pupils, including those with special educational needs. Teachers provide personalised plans and resources to ensure all pupils access the learning. The school plans link mainstream teaching objectives with objectives specific to individual IEP targets.

Wave 1 - Quality First Teaching

Since adopting the English Hour as the means through which to deliver the statutory curriculum for English, Federation has fully embraced the progressive teaching sequence of 'Reading in to Writing'. Consequently, units of work, outlined through school-developed overviews, begin with pupils being immersed in a particular text type/ genre. Future lessons, as well as covering appropriate word and sentence level objectives (through cross-reference to Spelling Bank, Grammar for Writing and Developing Early Writing) move the children through teacher modelled writing and shared writing prior to children being required to write independently in a given genre.

English plans are monitored to ensure consistency and quality across the schools. This is undertaken by the English Co-ordinator and the Head Teacher.

Individual Pupil Targets are issued half-termly to individual children. Moderation of teacher assessment is scheduled across the academic year to ensure consistency in approach and expectation.

Monitoring of teaching within Federation is in accordance with the school's Monitoring Timetable. Both of the school's English Co-ordinators are involved in this process in collaboration with the school's Senior Management Team.

Phonics

The school has implemented a comprehensive phonics programme based upon 'Letters and Sounds.' As part of the school's participation in a Learning Network training and the preparation of resources will occur to ensure that phonics teaching within KS1 and FS is both consistent and effective. A National Screening Check is carried out where children are expected to decode and blend real words and pseudo words (nonsense words). This screening takes place at the end of Year 1. Children who do not pass the screening test in Year 1 will retake the screening at the end of Year 2.

Resources

Within the classroom, children presently have access to a range of fiction texts including poetry. In addition, the children have free access to dictionaries and thesauri. All books must be well maintained by the children and can be taken home. The class teacher keeps a log of books going home with the children. Each class visits the school library and may also borrow books from there.

The school has developed a resource bank of guided reading texts as well as the provision of Collins 'Big Cat Phonics' reading scheme.

Children have access to iPads and computers to research and present their work. All classrooms have working walls and age appropriate 'self-help' English resource mats.

Computing

Computing is an important part of the literate environment. It can be used in a number of ways to assist the children with drafting work, enabling them to see the content of their writing clearly and allow them to pick up errors in spelling punctuation and expression. Many children who find writing physically challenging are often greatly encouraged by using the computer to present their work or communicate meaning. For some children communication devices and the ability for programs to 'talk back' are particularly helpful.

Target Setting

Children's performance is tracked by both the English Coordinators and the school's Assessment Co-ordinator. Collected data is then used to identify pupils who are making progress below that expected as well as provided the basis for the development of whole-school performance targets. Intervention is put in place for children who struggled to make sufficient progress.

Benchmarks

The Federation of North and South Cowton Community Primary School and Melsonby Methodist Primary School has developed its own benchmarks against which children are tracked in accordance to the guidance above. These benchmarks are used to set targets and against which to hold teachers accountable.

Analysis of data

Data is analysed regularly by the HT and English Co-ordinators. From this, areas for further development are identified and addressed through the use of whole-school, group and individual targets.

The Learning Environment

The Federation of North and South Cowton Community Primary School and Melsonby Methodist Primary School has created its own classroom environment checklist to ensure consistency and quality across both Key Stages and within all areas of the curriculum. Stimulating and engaging classroom displays ensure the children's learning is highlighted and celebrated.

Wave 3 Intervention

Using the school's provision for tracking pupil achievement, the assessment co-ordinator, EMA co-ordinator, SENCO and class teachers are able to identify pupils who are not making the expected progress. Such pupils will then be identified for further support through targeted interventions where available.

Co-ordinator Role

- To monitor, review and order resources;
- To plan and organise staff development in line with key priorities and with liaison with the school's CPD Co-ordinator;
- To review the school policy regularly;
- To encourage English display in classrooms and around the school by providing a good role model;
- To monitor the delivery and assessment of English across the school in consultation with the Leadership Team, Senior Management Team and the school's Assessment Co-ordinator;
- To monitor pupil progress, identify whole-school/ layered/ individual targets in liaison with the school's Assessment Co-ordinator;

- To manage access and entitlement to English in school through consultation with the school's Assessment Co-ordinator, Ethnic Minority Achievement Co-ordinator, SENCO and Inclusion Manager;
- To involve LA support services within the school and liaise with English Consultants;
- To maintain and identify priorities for the school;
- To ensure that English recommendations set within the SIP are met, and
- To provide parents with updated information on English initiatives and the target setting process.

Suggestions for Teaching and Learning Strategies in English

Whole Class Section

Speaking and listening opportunities:

- talk partners;
- role play;
- hot seating;
- drama.
- Whiteboards
- Text marking
- Reading strategies
- Writing strategies
- Singing

A variety of stimuli:

- video;
- pictures;
- text;
- drama.

Interactive strategies:

- demonstration;
- 'show me';
- drama.

Guided/ group work/ independent work:

- writing frames;
- speaking frames;
- word banks/ vocabulary;
- drama/ games;
- mixed ability pairs;
- reading aloud/ reading independently;
- DART activities.

Use of TA (as classroom support):

- scribing;
- modelling or remodelling;
- drama;
- games
- talk for writing.

Plenary

- help address lesson's key objectives;
- should best fit lesson purpose;
- provide opportunities review and clarify their learning;
- encourage reflection on what has been learnt and how;
- use a range of strategies;
- use extended questions to probe children's feedback;
- extend thinking further;
- develop strategies to remember what they have learnt;
- build-up a 'meta-language' to help them talk about what they've learnt;
- secure the place of the plenary –try to give it its allocated time.

Inclusion Strategies:

- High quality, culturally relevant materials;
- Peer support through mixed ability grouping;
- Collaborative learning in pairs/ groups, e.g. talk partners, investigative tasks;
- Speaking and listening integral to activity;
- Vocabulary/ word/ phrase banks developed with pupils;
- Teacher/ peer modelling of task and outcome;
- Repetitive process and/ or language;
- Opportunities to use 1st language/ home language;
- Visual support;
- Real objects/ props/ puppets;
- Graphic organisers, e.g. tables and bar charts;
- Scaffolding for reading tasks;
- Scaffolds for writing tasks, e.g. writing frames;
- Drama and role play;
- Interactive and multilingual displays;
- Clearly identified roles for adults;
- Opportunity for pupils to have a voice;
- Opportunity for pupils to show understanding and learning;
- Parental involvement, and
- Homework which is supportive of classroom curriculum.
